Two Tenure Track Assistant or Associate Professor Positions in School of Social Work

Location: New Orleans, LA

The Tulane University School of Social Work (TSSW) (http://tssw.tulane.edu) is seeking 2 exceptional behavioral science researchers and educators to join our top level faculty beginning in August 2017. These two tenure-track positions are 9-month appointments with duties including research, teaching, and service. Although searches for these two positions are conducted concurrently, the positions are separate from one another and both are geared to strengthen the School's research and teaching in health and behavioral health areas. There is no restriction or preference to discipline other than social & behavioral science areas including: Social Work, Public Health, Psychology, Sociology, or Nursing. The School of Social Work is seeking to build research and teaching capacity in community health and behavioral health specifically in addictions, mental health and related disparities to serve the dynamic and multicultural New Orleans area. Candidates should have a PhD, DSW or other Doctorate in their discipline and possess the rank of ABD or Assistant Professor for Assistant Professor rank or advanced career Assistant Professor or Associate Professor for the Associate Professor rank. ABD candidates must have successfully defended by July 1, 2017.

Tulane University, a Carnegie designated Research I institution, is located within the vibrant city of New Orleans. The School of Social Work invites nominations and applications for two open rank tenure – track faculty positions at either the Assistant or Associate Professor levels, especially in the areas of Health, Behavioral Health (including Disaster Mental Health specialization) and related disparities. Backgrounds (practice experience and research) in mental health, health disparities, addictive behaviors, community-based participatory research methods, and prevention/intervention expertise are preferred. Previous experience in developing and/or teaching online and hybrid innovative courses are also of particular interest to us.

Qualifications

Applicants must possess a PhD, DSW, or a Doctoral degree in a related behavioral science discipline. An MSW, MPH, MS or equivalent degree from an accredited program is preferred, but not required.

Candidates for Assistant Professor rank should have evidence of a strong foundation in local, state, NIH or federal level research or equivalent experience, scholarly publications in top level journals, and strong skills in preparing research grant proposals for external funding (foundations, State or Federal mechanisms).

Candidates for Associate Professor rank should have significant experience and a record of funding from State, foundations, NIH or federal level mechanism or equivalent experience, significant scholarly publications in top level journals, and strong skills in preparing research grant proposals for external funding (foundations, State or Federal mechanisms).

Rank and salary will be commensurate with expertise and experience.

Application Instructions

Interested persons should submit a letter of application outlining research and teaching philosophy, research statement, a curriculum vita, two sample publications, and the names of three references.

Please submit all materials using the following link: https://apply.interfolio.com/37863

Questions should be addressed to the Search Committee Chair Dr. Jane Parker via email: jparker@tulane.edu

---

For help signing up, accessing your account, or submitting your application please check out our help and support section or get in touch via email at help@interfolio.com or phone at (877) 997-8807.